

Juha Simola has been appointed as CEO of Temet Group LTD. He will start in this position on 28 February 2022.

Juha Simola has strong experience in international engineering and defense industry management positions, as well as production, sales- and marketing. Since 2018, he has worked as the CEO of Weckman Steel Oy. Before that he has held various management positions in Patria Group. Prior to that, Simola worked in the BU Component EVP position in the Fortaco Group.

“We warmly welcome Juha to our company. He is an experienced professional and has very relevant knowledge due to his various management assignments. In addition, Juha’s leading style is based on values similar to what Temet represents. His extensive expertise significantly supports our work going forward with the future development of Temet Group”, says Ari Anttonen, Chairman of the Board of Temet Group.

"Temet Group is one of the leading civil defense companies in the Nordic countries, which future goals, growth and internationalization are part of the company strategy.

I am very excited to join the company at this very moment where expectations are high but achievable.

I look forward to working with the entire organization to build a common international success story and develop the company together within our business insiders and customers.

Temet's mission is to provide different levels of civil defense solutions, ensuring the security of society.

It is great to be involved in providing our customers with services that allow them to make more responsible decisions”, says Juha Simola.

Further information: Ari Anttonen, CoB, Temet Group, mobile: +358 40 540 3277